ART AS A CAREER

Art is one of the most joyful professions, and some of the fields are very lucrative. The average person has little idea that everything of use to them has been created by an artist. The houses they live in, the floor coverings, the wallpaper, drapery material, dishes, design of their automobile, pictures on the wall, church windows, murals on the walls of their banks, coins, labels on cans of food, and designs on bottles. The artist's eyes are trained to see the beauty that nature gives us. The color of the sky, the beauty of flowers, the shapes of trees. Many people go through life with closed eyes. The artist's eyes are open to all beauty.

Many men and women in this country paint in their spare time, evenings, Saturday afternoons, and Sundays. Many doctors, lawyers, nurses, teachers, housewives, etc., have fun learning to paint. This is of great benefit. They forget their work having fun and go back to their jobs with a new outlook. Some have become professional artists. Some students start at the age of 70. There is no age limit to art.

Today I tell you that the "glorification" of our times is the insistence by any nation that all error, all blame, and all responsibility for failure rests exclusively in any one capital or economic system.

Optimists Hear Miss Harden

Talks on Conditions in State Mental Hospitals

Miss Florence Harden, staff member of the Pennsylvania Social Service, spoke on "Norristown State Hospital" at a meeting of the Ardmore Optimist Club, Tuesday afternoon, at the Llanerch Country Club.

"There is an erroneous impression among the American people that inmates of state mental hospitals are treated roughly," Miss Harden said, "and that they are often subject to solitary confinement for great lengths of time. Nothing could be further from the truth. The basic treatment consists of kindness and help. In fact, many patients who have been released, return to the hospitals as attendants."

She stressed the fact that most state hospitals are overcrowded, but pointed out that the Norristown hospital has one of the best Vocational Training programs in the country and that the personnel, which includes 28 psychiatrists, and facilities, are above average.

"Certain groups," she said, "are always anxious to discredit state institutions for their own advantage." The public is invited to visit the hospital on week-end afternoons. A committee was appointed for the annual donations given by the club to the Christ Foundling Home, Paradise, Pa. The committee.

Rachel Harriet Trump Is Wed To James Lee Owings

St. Asaph's Church, Bala-Cynwyd, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon, November 1, when Miss Rachel Harriet Trump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Croasdale Trump, of 503 Baird Rd., Merion, became the bride of James Lee Owings, son of Mr. Stanley Dorsey Owings, of Washington, and Mrs. Margaretta Lee Owings, of Hagerstown, Md. The Rev. Richard T. Lyford officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a period gown of white satin with an off-the-shoulder neckline. Her heirloom lace veil was held by a Mary Queen of Scots cap and she carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and snapdragons.

Miss Hebe Bulley, the maid of honor and only attendant for her cousin, wore a gown of rose beige faille and a matching horse-hair hat. Her bouquet was an arrangement of pink and rose chrysanthemums.

Fire in Basement Office Drives Family From Home

Fire in the basement office of Dr. Ralph Mezrow, at 6 Lancaster Rd., Merion, drove residents from the house above the offices, late Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. H. E. Goshen and her son, Ralph, smelled smoke and called the Cynwyd Fire Company, which put out the blaze. Dr. Mezrow, who rents the offices from the Goshens, told firemen he had smelled smoke on Tuesday night as he was leaving the office, but it seemed to disappear. An overheated pipe was blamed.

Merion D. A. R. Hears Reports On Conference

Plans for the Coming Year Are Discussed at Meeting Held on Nov. 4

The Merion Chapter, D. A. R., met November 4 at the home of Mrs. G. L. Cornman, of Stony Run, Gladwyne, for a dessert-luncheon meeting.

Reports on the state conference held at Atlantic City October 20, 21 and 22, were given by the chapter delegates.

Miss Sara E. Shubert, regent, reported on the memorial service for the past regent, Mrs. Asa W. Lehman, who died November 18, 1946.

The first vice-regent, Mrs. Ralph Ashenfelter, made a report on the National Defense Breakfast at which Mrs. Rosalind Ewing Martin, National Chairman, outlined a definite program for Chapter Chairman and members. Mrs. Ewing explained that defense consists of a number of things and the lack of any one element may provide a channel for the invader, whether he be a military conqueror or the subtle destroyer who enters in a cloud of propaganda.

"Again," Mrs. Martin said, "we are in a period where wishful thinkers tell us there will be no more wars. . . Surely these people have failed to interpret the history of the past and to note that though classed as a peaceful nation, no generation in our history has escaped war."

Mrs. Charles M. Stuard, second vice-regent and chairman of Approved Schools reported on the aid of the chapter to D. A. R. Schools throughout the country.

The Christmas donation was made for the Physical and Occupational Therapy work at Ellis Island and a donation for the restoration of Old Swedes' Church was voted by the chapter.

Miss Jessie Elizabeth Marsh, of Ridgely Park, was proposed by the regent, Miss Sara Shubert, as a new member.

Former Miss Dixon Is Divorced From W. Jeffords, Jr.

Unusual Type of Divorce Action Started Saturday in Montgomery County

Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords, Jr., the former H. Sidney Dixon, was granted a divorce Saturday in Delaware County Common Pleas Court from her husband, former Army officer and son of a millionaire. The grounds for the divorce were not disclosed.

The couple, who have a three-year-old child, are said to have separated early this year. Mrs. Jeffords has been living with friends at Sugarstown and Leopold, Pa., and her husband reportedly is living at the home of his parents in Glen Riddle, Delaware County.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton G. Dixon, of Hillbrook House, Bryn Mawr, Mrs. Jeffords last May reported the loss of $21,000 worth of jewelry from her automobile parked outside Shibe Park while she attended a night baseball game. The jewels were recovered.

In the Montgomery County Court, Norristown, an unusual type of divorce suit was initiated Saturday.

The action, commonly termed by attorneys as a "bread and butter" divorce, represents an application for complete separation but with the provision that the parties involved cannot remarry. It also involves a request for alimony.

The action, titled "Divorce a Mensa et Thoro," was filed by Anne Simons Bullock, Lower Merion, against Benjamin Bullock, 4th. They were married November 10, 1939, and the grounds on which the libel is based are indignities.

Divorces granted include the following:

Russell R. Markle, Lower Merion, from Winnie Maltby Markle, alleging indignities. They were married December 24, 1944.

Martin B. Smith, Lower Merion, from Margaret Murray Smith, alleging desertion May 1, 1940. They were married May 28, 1924.

Ruth A. M. Ostrander, Philadelphia, from Burton Ostrander, Ardmore, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities. They were married March 14, 1947.

Dorothy Steel Wagner, Lower Merion, from Earl Gordon Wagner, alleging indignities. They were married June 8, 1921.

Press Freedom Defended in Seminar Here

Publisher, Judge and GI's Uphold Right; Local Speakers Heard

Freedom of speech and of the press—extending even to freedom of dissenting opinions about the American way of life—was defended vigorously by a panel of speakers which included a publisher, a judge and two ex-GI attorneys, Tuesday night in the second Americanism seminar at Lower Merion junior high school.

Walter D. Fuller, president of the Curtis Publishing Company, who served as moderator, warned that the heresies of "Genghis Khan" are on the march again—whether you call it communism, fascism or socialism. And if totalitarianism wins the struggle we are now engaged in, you won't be able to sit here discussing freedom of any kind. And I will be in a concentration camp!

The two principal speakers, attorneys Joseph S. Lord, 3rd, and Thomas A. Galbally, were introduced by the chairman, Judge Robert V. Bolger, of the Philadelphia Orphans' Court. They outlined the legal history by means of which freedom of speech and of the press have reached greater heights here in America than at any time in world history.

Warning that freedom must not be abused, Galbally nevertheless pointed out that it extends to those who hold opposing points of view from those of the majority of Americans.

"Even the communists, since they are a legally-constituted party in this country, print a newspaper which reflects their point of view. And that newspaper is defended by every means which the American body of law makes possible. When you oppose this sort of thing," he pointed out, "you must remember that the law which you want now may operate to gag you next week. No one can be free unless everyone is free!"

Questions relating to the freedom of speech and of press according to the law, were then addressed to a panel of local persons. This included Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney, prominent local clubwoman and civic leader; Miss Nancy Frick, reporter for a local weekly newspaper; Herbert J. Painter, township commissioner; Dr. Ernest P. Earnest, director of the Haverford branch of Temple University; Robert Williams, a student of Haverford College, and Wilfred Quigley, of Local 131, United Automobile Workers, an employee of the Autocar Company of Ardmore.

One of the questions which aroused controversy among panel members and the audience was a discussion of the conviction of Harry Bridges, leader of the West Coast CIO Longshoremen's Union, for sending and publishing a telegram to the secretary of labor which threatened a strike unless a decision favoring an AFL union was overridden. After a warm discussion, in which Quigley castigated his fellow union member for the action, Joseph Lord pointed out that Bridges was entirely within his rights according to the law. The Supreme Court decision which reversed Bridges' conviction held that there was no "clear and present danger," that the telegram threatened nothing unlawful, since the CIO has a right to strike, and that the telegram was sent to the Secretary of Labor, whose duty it is to have all available information concerning possible or threatened strikes.

In the speech which brought the seminar to a close, Judge Bolger defended the decision of the Philadelphia Courts which permitted the members of the Progressive Citizens of America to hold a meeting in Independence Square on November 1.

Legally, he pointed out, there was no clear and present danger of rioting. Technically, the speakers who had not been given a chance to defend themselves in Washington were entitled to a chance to present their point of view; and, actually, the core of the matter lay in the truth that "truth is established by criticism, and rises above criticism, and shines out over any attempt to muddy it or try it down."

At the meeting next Tuesday, the seminar will take up the topic, "Private Enterprise." Justice Horace Stern, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, will be the moderator.

C. Robert Lees Dies After Fall

Funeral services for C. Robert Lees, an investment broker in Philadelphia for the past 25 years, who died last Thursday night in Delaware County Hospital, were held Monday afternoon from his home, 232 Valley Rd., Merion. He was 49.

Mr. Lees was taken to the hospital November 3 following a fall in his home, in which he broke his right hip.

A graduate of Friends Central School and a member of the Masonic Order, he also belonged to the Penn Athletic Club, the Nashville Association of Security Dealers in America and the Bala-Cynwyd American Legion Post. He was associated with the Kennedy and Co. Land Title Building.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, a daughter, Barbara, a son, Robert L., and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lees, of Upper Darby. Interment was in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Bernard J. King Jailed as Judge and Jury Disagree

Disagreeing with a jury verdict in Montgomery County Court Thursday, Judge C. Corson doubled the costs on Bernard King, 25, of Ardmore Ave., Ardmore, and sent him to jail until they were paid.

The jury of ten men and two women found King innocent of the charges of larceny and assault and battery brought by his neighbor, Mrs. Rosine Donahue. The defendant claimed Mrs. Donahue gave him money to buy liquor, hit him with a bottle during an argument and then had him arrested, charging that he hit her.

Judge Corson told the jury that this was King's second offence, and that he personally was convinced the 25-year-old bartender was guilty. When King was unable to pay the costs of the trial the judge turned him over to a sheriff and sent him to jail until they are paid.

Building Permits Gain in October

132 More Issued This Year; Cost Set at $579,203

Jesse L. Stettler, superintendent of building regulations in Lower Merion Township, stated that 132 building permits were issued last month over those issued in October, 1946.

The increase in estimated cost over that of a year ago, amounted to $579,203. From January, 1947, to October, 1947, there have been 1864 permits issued, against 1225 for the same period last year, an increase of 439. The estimated cost increase over the same period was listed at $2,442,142.

Stettler's report stated that there were four permits issued for alterations and additions, eight for business buildings, 5 for multiple dwellings, 73 for single family dwellings, one for two-family dwellings, one each for foundations, heating systems, repairs to fire damage, storage tanks, and temporary dance boor; 18 for private garages, 31 for antenna, 99 for oil burner equipment, four for signs, two for repairs to business buildings, one for repairs to private garage, and three for repairs to single family dwellings.

Ardmore Rotary Club Hears Dobbs Ehlman

A meeting of the Ardmore Rotary Club was held at the Haverford Court Hotel, Tuesday.

The speaker, Dobbs E. Ehlman, told of economic problems and post war conditions in China. Ehlman recently returned from a trip to China. Ray Schlosser, was in charge of the meeting.

It was announced that Thomas Patrick Lyons, of 26 W. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, had filed application for membership.

Chester Tests

In the first period and three more in the second. The Eagles scored only in the fourth quarter, with Lower Merion's reserves in action.

Harry Barton and Bill Ryder, with two touchdowns each, led Lower Merion to its one-sided triumph. Ryder intercepted a lateral and raced 75 yards for one second period score, while Barton sprinted 80 for another.

A 19-year pass, Capt. Len Shephard to Ryder, accounted for the Mattismen's first touchdown. Shephard then scored from the 10 to cap an 80-yard drive and Barton tallied from the 12.

The victory proved costly, however, for L. M.'s Bill Buck, six-foot end who weighs 166, suffered a concussion in the second period and was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital for observation. It was Lower Merion's 18th victory in the 34-game series, two games having ended in ties.

L. Merion High Booters to Play For Terry Bowl

Lower Merion High, which recently clinched the Suburban League soccer championship for the sixth season, defeated Abington, 3-1, Friday in a tuneup test prior to the Frank Terry Memorial Bowl tournament for the city scholastic crown.

Clark, Cooper and Walt Michaels scored for Lower Merion, as Abington was held to a single goal in the opening period.

Coached by Bob Hill, the L. M. operatives will compete in the Terry Memorial Bowl for the third successive year. Lower Merion was defeated in the 1946 series by Northeast High, present city champion. Northeast again will represent the Public League this year, while the leading non-league team and the Interac title also will be represented.

The Terry tournament, staged in honor of the late Northeast High School coach, will be held late this month or the first week in December. The playing site will be Northeast's 29th and Lehigh field.

OAKMONT WINS, 7-0, OVER BROOKLINE TO TAKE TITLE

Oakmont gridders captured the Haverford Township Grade School League title by overwhelming Brookline, 7-0, on Tuesday in their 26th annual game. It marked Oakmont's fourth straight victory and enabled the titlists to complete their season unbeaten, untied and unscathed.

Playing on the Haverford High field at Brookline before more than 1,000 despite a dreary downpour, Oakmont's Brookline staged an exciting battle. Oakmont finally showed over the game's only score in the second quarter.

Six-minute periods were played as the neighborhood youngsters met on the high school field. It marked Oakmont's 15th appearance on that field, and its fifth game with Brookline, to complete the season unbeaten.

Since Bill Lavary, Oakmont principal, again became football coach his charges have won three and Brookline, under Bill Buchanan, has taken four straight losses in previous games this year. Oakmont overwhelmed Chestnutwood, 20-0; Manoa, 26-0, and Llanerch, 19-0.

Westgate Hills, Crusaders Clash In Playoff Here
Westgate Hills' powerful football team took first place in the Sandlot Sports Association's midweight league by overwhelming Oakmont, 52-0, Sunday afternoon. It was the Hillers' seventh consecutive victory.

As a result of its triumph, Westgate gained the sandlot's semi-playoff berth. The Hillers will oppose a highly-regarded Frankford Crusader eleven next Sunday afternoon on the West Chester Pike and Eagle Rd. in Manoa.

Against Oakmont's Mother of Divine Grace, Westgate scored the first two times it gained possession of the ball. Jack Birmingham raced 30 yards for the first touchdown, and Bob Banskob scampered 45 for another soon after.

Banskob also plunged to pay dirt again later in the game, while other Westgate touchdowns were registered by Bill O'Connor, Jimmy Kilgore, Jack Harrington, Art Jones and Bill Leonard. The latter also made good on four of eight extra point attempts.

Coach Joe Leonard's squad has scored 162 points to date against opponents' six.

Villanova's intramural athletic program is producing results for varsity coaches. Several members of dormitory teams last winter will likely win berths on Coach Al Severance's basketball squad.

Joe Rogers, Villanova College halfback, will have his own rooting section when the Main Liners play University of San Francisco away late in November. A number of former champions of a destroyed escort in the Pacific have advised Joe they plan to attend the game in a group.

Al Severance is the oldest member in length of service on the Villanova coaching staff. The basketball mentor is preparing for his 12th season as head coach at his alma mater.

Browning Ross and George Thompson, Villanova distance stars, have been invited to compete in the Sugar Bowl meet in New Orleans during the Christmas holidays. Ross finished second to Forest Eflaw in the steeplechase run last year.

Villanova's record as the best pass defense team in the East is the result of plenty of hard work. Coach Joan Oliver decries part of each workout to aerial defense.

When Villanova's basketball team meets University of Cincinnati on Dec. 20 in the Ohio city, it will mark the first athletic competition between the two institutions.

L. Merion Vets Invade Wayne In M. L. League

Lower Merion's defending champion clinched the Suburban League basketball race, will travel to Wayne next Monday evening and attempt to extend their budding victory streak.

In other games on Monday, Brookline will play at Jenkintown and Coatesville will invade Elkins Park. This Thursday night, Jenkintown plays at Norristown, and Wayne plays host to Narberth.

Following those games, Norristown will play at Narberth next Tuesday and the Borough passers will invade a neighborhood rivalry with Lower Merion in the Senior High gymnasium the following evening.

Lower Merion Vets hacked out a 31-15 halftime lead and constantly added to it to overwhelm Elkins Park, 59-13 on Monday, while Brookline beat Wayne, 61-51.

Al McCann caged 14 points as the Vets won their second straight, while Moon Mullin collected 10. Bobby McDermott's belated goals enabled Brookline to ward off Wayne's late rush, after the Brookline wiped out the upper Main Liners' 48-47 advantage.

The Boston Celtics will invade the Philadelphia Arena next Thursday, November 20, to challenge the defending BAA champion, Philadelphia Warriors, in the windup of an all-professional twin bill.

Art Spector, former West Philadelphia High and Villanova College ace, will lead the Celtics against the Warriors in the first game. He's one of the five members of last year's Boston club retained by Coach Honey Russell.

Jim Barr Chosen 'Player of Week'

Jim Barr, Lower Merion High's husky tackle, was honored as the "Schoolboy Player of the Week" at the Monday Maxwell Club dinner. Barr was selected for his play against Upper Darby High, as Lower Merion remained unbeaten by scoring a 14-13 victory.

The college award went to Chuck (The Clutch) Bednarik, Penn's talented center and All-America aspirant, as a result of his spectacular performance against Virginia.

Boteler Scores 2 As Hornets Win
Chuck Boteler, one of the best of the small college backs, scored both touchdowns as Haverford College conquered Hamilton, 12-0, Saturday at Clinton, N. Y.

In the 21st game of a football rivalry begun in 1924, Haverford has won 14 games, lost five and tied two. The Hornets will oppose Johns Hopkins, which bowed by 19-12 to Swarthmore last week on the Main Line field Saturday.

Playing in a light snowfall in the first half—three inches of the fluffy stuff covered the playing field—Haverford capitalized on a poor punt to score in the opening period. Boteler plunged over from the five after advancing from the 39 in four smashes. He then ran 72 yards for a second-period touchdown.
